Contract Drafting and Legal Document Training

PROFILE OF DIGNITARIES

Malcolm graduated from Oxford University with a first class honours degree, and qualified in 1994 as a solicitor in England and Wales. He has broad experience of property, environment and international regulatory work. He retains a role in private practice as Consultant to City of London law firm Charles Russell Speechlys LLP with a remit that includes, as well as transactional and advisory work, UK and international business development and client engagement.

He is regularly engaged by training and conference organisations both in the UK and overseas to design and deliver full programmes or stand-alone seminars and workshops. Recent clients include commercial law firms, a major infrastructure company, utilities providers, educational institutions and local government.

Malcolm is a member of the Faculty formed by Thomson Reuters in 2014 to design and deliver its online Lecture Series on Contract Drafting (LSCD) for law graduates and junior lawyers in India. He has delivered numerous legal and professional skills courses in India for both private practice and in-house legal teams.

Malcolm has designed and delivered training sessions for the Law Society of England and Wales and the UK Government's Trade & Industry department in a wide range of jurisdictions, including Dubai, Nigeria, Uganda, Kenya, Tanzania and Singapore.

Malcolm has more than 300 published articles to his credit. He writes and lectures on legal practice management, knowledge management and business development as well as on substantive legal issues, and his articles have been quoted in Forbes and the Economist. He is the author of Climate Change and Sustainable Development (EG Books, 2008), co-author of the UK chapter in Green Buildings and the Law (CIB, 2011) and of Strategic Sustainable Procurement (DoSustainability, 2014). Forthcoming Law2020 books and e-books include Contractual Drafting and Drafting Commercial Leases.
